

The FSS Advantage - A top faculty

The Faculty of Social Sciences is unique in south-western of Romania in covering almost all social-humanist areas and offering in depth expertise in the multidisciplinary approach to advancing the public interest. Representing a comprehensive range of opportunities and responsibilities to meet the challenges of its era, the specializations of the faculty address questions of novel approaches and excellent alliances that bring together leaders from government, civil society and private sector. Over the last 10 years, the Faculty of Social Sciences has become the regional leader in educating and empowering students committed to advancing the public interest. Our professors are renowned scholars and accomplished practitioners, who are actively engaged in the affairs of the world. Our students are legislators, nonprofit executives, social entrepreneurs, political analysts, historians, and aspiring leaders – from every age group and every corner of the globe.

Who Are We Looking For?

We encourage candidates who can benefit from—and contribute to—an excellent education in which students challenge, learn, and perform from each other as they improve their growing leadership abilities and capabilities. To create a dynamic academic environment that mirrors the depth of our multicultural world, we seek diversity. Each fall, we welcome more than 100 students representing more than ten countries and a wide range of interests and backgrounds. While our students' lives and experiences vary greatly, they all share a demonstrated capacity for leadership and a desire to effect positive change.

Welcoming new students

Each year the Faculty of Social Sciences arranges a matriculation event to welcome the new students. After a ceremony, a special event is arranged for international students..

For the right candidate, now is the right time to apply

Global vision

Since the establishment of various European student exchange programmes in the late 1990's, the Faculty of Social Sciences has attracted substantial numbers of international guests and exchange students each year. The form and content of the courses are regularly improved to cover the needs of the European and the international communities. FSS's leadership and administrative team is dedicated to fulfilling its educational mission, to improve for the Faculty's future, and to perform its academic European excellence (collaborations with faculties, institutes and research centers from more than 20 countries, among them United States of America, France, United Kingdom, Italy, Spain, Austria, Germany, Turkey etc.).

A network of success

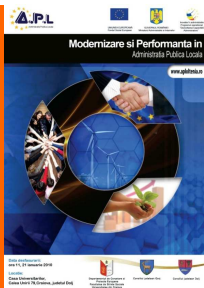

At its core, FSS student life is built around the diversity of human life that's invigorated with student club events, student organizations, international guest speakers, seminars, sports, international conferences, professional practice and more. In fact, many of our candidate profiles share a common concept: how candidates have not only found an academic community of support, but a close-knit network of friendships that last a lifetime. The broad range of services and departments reflect the experience and diversity of the Faculty.

Student life

International students often live in student residences or share apartments in Craiova. They are expected to take a critical, professional and independent approach to their academic studies.
