Global average quantities specific to a stochastic anisotropic sheared magnetic field

M. Negrea and I. Petrisor

Department of Physics, University of Craiova,

Association Euratom-MEdC, Romania

13 A.I.Cuza Str, 200585 Craiova, Romania

20 October 2006

Abstract

Different average global quantities were evaluated for a stochastic anisotropic magnetic field lines in a sheared slab magnetic configuration in the framework of the decorrelation trajectory method. In our study we have considered physical ranges for the anisotropy parameter, magnetic Kubo number and shear parameter leading to different dynamical behaviors.

PACS numbers: 52.35.Ra, 52.25.Fi, 05.40.-a, 02.50.-r.