

ELECTRONIC DEVICE FOR PLOTTING THE CHARACTERISTICS OF A SOLAR CELL

Emilian Morîntale
Department of Physics II, University of Craiova,
Str. A. I. Cuza 13, Craiova-200585, Romania.

Abstract: The purpose of this paper is to design an electronic device that would allow the plotting of the characteristics $I = f(U)$ and $P = f(U)$ of a polycrystalline silicon solar cell, as well as the measuring the power in function of the incident flux.